There was born to Mr. and Mrs. Eichberg yesterday a daughter. Mother and child doing well.

Ike Quinn last night engaged Professors Bierman and Parker to furnish music in his saloon every evening.

Patrick Lapper left last night on his way to Ireland, where he expects to visit relatives for about three months.

Frank Fossett is anticipating a trip to England to visit his mother, whom he has not seen for 11 years. He expects to start it about 10 days.

A party of ten couples left last night for a sleigh ride to Warm Springs and return. All occupied the same sleigh, a pair of double bobs, and a large time was enjoyed.

The STANDARD acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to attend the opening on March 2 of "The Bozeman," the commodious and beautiful hotel just erected in Bozeman.

The case of Mrs. John White charged with petit larceny before a jury in Judge Fitzgerald's court yesterday afternoon. The jury exonerated Mrs. White by returning a verdict of acquittal.

Peter Martin, who is at the hospital suffering from an attack of pneumonia, and who made so much trouble Tuesday night while temporarily insane, was reported as much better last evening.

William Fahey, an employee at the lower works, was arrested yesterday morning by Officer Isenman for being drunk. Fahey showed an inclination to resist arrest and made a hard scrap before the officer succeeded in getting the nippers on him. However he was locked up in jail and was arraigned in the police court yesterday. He was fined $1 and costs.

The Upper and Lower Works Fire Department band was out again last night on another serenading tour, furnishing excellent music. Their ball this evening at Evans hall promises to be a grand success. About 8 o'clock the band will give an open air concert on Main street. The grand march will start shortly after 9 o'clock. Every arrangement has been made for the pleasure of the guests and one of the pleasantest dancing parties of the season is expected.

The attachment case of Theodore Elbert against John A. Burke for $90.60 was heard before Judge Fitzgerald last evening. Lawyer English, who appeared for the defendant, endeavored to quash the charge on account of a technicality in the writ, Deputy Sheriff Tracey having made out a constable's instead of a sheriff's writ. It was shown that Mr. Tracy was both a constable and deputy sheriff, and no other attempt at defense was made by the defendant. A judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount and costs.

THE BUSY BILL MAKERS

Higgins' State Institutions Measure Referred to a Special Committee.

A BILL WITHOUT A FATHER

Butte's New "Medical College"—The Salaries Bill Defeated—One Proposed State Bureau is Dispensed With.

Special to the Standard.

HELENA, Feb. 12.—The following bills were introduced in the house today:

House bill No. 96, by Frank—An act protecting keepers of inns, hotels and eating houses.

House bill No. 97, by Frank—An act to allow interest on the claims of Mitchell and Mussigbrod against the state for the keeping of the insane.

House bill No. 98, by Frank—An act to allow interest on the claims of Frank Conley and Thomas McTague against the state for running the state penitentiary.

House bill No. 99, by Penrose—An act providing for the incorporation and support of the Montana medical college.

House bill No. 100, by Cory—An act providing for the location and maintenance of public parks and boulevards.

House bill No. 101, by Carney—An act prescribing the duties of certain land commissioners.

These were introduced and referred.

By Cardwell—An act authorizing the state treasurer to transfer certain moneys from the stock inspector fund to the stock indemnity fund.

By Thompson—An act for the better protection of consumers of kerosene oil.

Buford gave notice of a bill to amend the act relating to town and village plates.

Senate bill No. 10, extending the life of corporations for industrial or agricultural purposes, passed the senate today.

The governor today signed house bill No. 10, providing for the appointment of a state board of examiners.

Mr. Penrose's bill providing for the incorporation of a Montana Medical college was prepared by a professor in an institution of medical learning in Butte, known as the Liebig dispensary. Doctor Stoddard, the proprietor, has had a good deal of trouble with the courts at different times, and the bill is designed to protect him and his dispensary. Mr. Penrose was requested to introduce the bill, which will probably not be passed. When Mr. Toole inquired who was there to father the bill no one responded.

House bill No. 4 was finally defeated. It provides in the salary list that the salaries of representatives shall be $6 and the sergeant-at-arms $8. There were enough majorities to pass both amendments, but they split when they came together. The vote was 29 to 31 against.

The committee on state boards and corporations reported against the passage of bills Nos. 24 and 25, both of which provided for the establishment of a state bureau of labor, agriculture and immigration. The committee thought that the salary of the commissioners would overbalance any benefits that might be derived to the state. The house refused to consider the matter, though urged to do so by Mr. Howey.

When Mr. Higgins' bill, which located all of the state institutions except the capital came up, Mr. Howey moved that it be referred to a special committee one from each county. Mr. Blakely moved a call of the house, which was made and immediately suspended. Then a vote was taken and the bill was referred to the following committee: Woodson, Comly, Hughes, Beach, Schmidt, Eaton, Hastie, Boardman, Blakely, Green, Waite, Higgins, Norton, Wing, Newcomer, Lund.

It seems hardly probable that the bill will pass. The agricultural college will lose $30,000 from the general government if not located this year.

The following recommendations were made in the senate committee of the whole:

House memorial, to have the Fort Shaw military reservation thrown open, senate bill for the purpose of certain wild animals, making the first Monday in September a legal holiday to be known as labor day; creating the office of marshal of the supreme court; allowing colleges and universities under the control of religious bodies to change their names; providing for taking up and advertising essays; creating the governor, lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house a board to advertise for bids for furnishings, supplies and stationery to the state officers and members of the legislature. The bill amending the school law by increasing the number of trustees was referred back to the committee on education.

The following measures passed the senate:

Senate joint memorial asking congress to re-tire brigadier-general John Gibbon with the rank and pay of a major-general; senate bill extending from twenty to fifty years the time of existence of corporations for industrial and other purposes.

The Hyer Sisters.

Of the Hyer sisters' company, which appears at Evans' opera house on Saturday night, the Vincennes, Ind., Commercial says: "Perhaps the most pleasing musical entertainment ever given here was that of the celebrated Hyer sisters at Greene's last night. The opera house was well filled and the audience was very appreciative. The programme is replete with the choicest musical selections. The Hyer sisters possess the most marvelous vocal power, and from their delightful rendition of the beautiful 'Old Kentucky Home' to the soul-stirring duet, 'I'll Trotter' from Verdi's opera, they held the audience spell-bound, and were so frequently and rapturously applauded and cheered, that it looked for awhile as though the audience intended to keep up the music all night. The tenor, James Ward, rendered two exquisite solos, 'The Song I'll Never Forget' and 'Only a Picture,' and received a perfect ovation. The comedian of the company is Mr. Joe Davis, and he has natural born talent enough to make the whole show himself. Uncle Eph and Aunt Naomi were likewise creditable characters. The fact is, the whole company are stars of the first magnitude, and those who missed the play should go Monday night, when the programme will be changed and many new features added."

A regular meeting of the Upper Works Fire department will be held at the Standard hall Monday evening, February 16, at 7:30. All members are requested to attend.
J. S. DOUGHERTY, Chief.
T. T. CONKEY, Secretary.

Notice.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to me will call and settle with Fitzpatrick & Strickfaden on or before February 16, as all accounts then unpaid will be sued and judgments obtained.

A ROMANTIC CAREER.

The Daughter of an Episcopalian Clergyman Dies in a House of Ill Fame.

By the Standard's Special Wire.

BUTTE, Feb. 12.—Emma Abbey is dead. In one of the front parlors of a double brick house on South Wyoming street her body lies enshrouded awaiting burial.

She died this morning after an illness of one week of pneumonia. Emma Abbey was one of the best known sporting women in the Rocky Mountain region.

Seven years ago she came to Butte and ever since she has been an inmate or proprietress of one of the houses of ill repute in this city. Like most women of her class, Miss Abbey had a history of a most romantic character.

During her residence in this city she was very reticent about her early history and few even of her most intimate friends knew her real name. Just before her death she requested that those who knew her right name would keep it forever a secret.

She did not desire, she said, to add another gray hair to the head of her poor sorrowing mother, whom she left long ago in the east. It is said that about one year ago Miss Abbey, who was the daughter of an Episcopalian minister of some prominence in a city in the state of New York, married a commercial traveler whose home was in Buffalo.

The match, which was made contrary to her parents' wishes, was not a happy one, and ended in the ruin of two lives. They separated, and after a short time the deserted wife came West, first to Denver, then to Salt Lake and Ogden and finally settled in Butte about seven years ago.

She had received a good education and was considered in her girlhood days a lady of refinement. Her never permitted her parents to know of the life she led here.

She changed her name and kept her identity a profound secret. Being a woman of accomplishments she became popular in the resorts of this city and it is generally conceded that up to the time of her death she was the most popular woman of her class in the city.

It was said of her to-day in Judge Newkirk's court that no sporting resort in Butte gave the police less trouble than Miss Abbey's. Her name never appeared in the police records and her associates declare unanimously that she was of genial and kind hearted disposition and as much given to good works as a woman in her unfortunate situation could be.

Though fallen and forced to hide her disgrace under an assumed name, it is a simple truth to state that Emma Abbey had countless friends in Butte. The unfortunate woman was taken sick one week ago to-day. The following day Dr. Leavitt was called and found her suffering from a slight attack of la grippe.

She had a horror of pneumonia, and when a friend a few hours later told her she was afflicted with the terrible disease she was greatly shocked, and from that time she gradually sank until death relieved her to-day. Last Sunday she made her will, in which she named Hon. H. L. Frank as administrator of her estate.

Miss Abbey was not wealthy. She had a few lots in Silver Bow park addition, two lots in the Terrace addition to Ogden and a little property in one of the additions across the river.

Besides this she owned the fine furnishings in the house in which her corpse to-night lies. This house was built for her some time ago by A. Pinus. It is not known how much cash she had, if any, but her diamonds are said to be of enormous value.

It is understood that all her property was bequeathed to her mother and sister who still reside at the home of her childhood and who are in poor circumstances. The funeral will be held to-morrow at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. F. E. Brush is expected to officiate. Tonight the room in which the body lies is flooded with beautiful wreaths, festoons and immortals of costly cut flowers.

Another Claim Against J. R. Boyce & Co.

BUTTE, Feb. 12.—Another action was begun to-day against J. R. Boyce, Jr., & Co. It was brought by Hood, Foulkrod & Co., through Charles R. Leonard.

The claim is about $3,000, and the idea is to collect the amount if possible from local creditors, whose accounts, it is claimed, are not covered by the attachment.
